President His Highness Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan has held phone calls with former US President Bill Clinton and Jason Carter, the grandson of former President Jimmy Carter.

In a phone call made during his official visit to the United States, His Highness exchanged warm greetings with Bill Clinton, highlighting the important role he played in strengthening bilateral ties during his time in office.

His Highness wished the former President and his family continued health and happiness. Former President Clinton expressed his gratitude for the call and extended his best wishes to the UAE President for his ongoing health and wellbeing.

In his conversation with Jason Carter, His Highness Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed enquired about the former President's wellbeing and extended his best wishes for his ongoing good health. His Highness praised Jimmy Carter's global humanitarian efforts, particularly his collaboration with the UAE and His Highness in tackling neglected tropical diseases through the work of the Carter Center. His Highness also noted the former President's contributions to promoting peace and stability in the Middle East and worldwide.

The UAE President wished Jason Carter further success in continuing his grandfather's humanitarian legacy in his capacity as Chair of the Carter Center, and reaffirmed his keenness to maintain collaboration with the Center in the future.

Jason Carter expressed the deep appreciation of the Carter family for His Highness' kind gesture and his heartfelt sentiments toward the former President and his family.
